

Communication Is Key

Saturday, 23 August 2008

It may seem obvious, but despite that fact, many relationships in real estate fail because the buyers, sellers or agents are not communicating effectively. In this weeks show we talk about not only the importance of good communication, but how email, voicemail, phone calls and facr to face talks fit in. Plus we cover all the latest real estate news for this week.

{enclose 2008.08.22.m4a}